

Lesson Exemplar in Life and Career Skills

Quarter 2

LESSON

1

Lesson Exemplar for Life and Career Skills
Quarter 2: Lesson 1

This material is intended exclusively for the use of senior high school teachers participating in the implementation of the Strengthened Senior High School Curriculum. It aims to assist in delivering the curriculum content, standards, and lesson competencies. Any unauthorized reproduction, distribution, modification, or utilization of this material beyond the designated scope is strictly prohibited and may result in appropriate legal actions and disciplinary measures.

Borrowed content included in this material are owned by their respective copyright holders. Every effort has been made to locate and obtain permission to use these materials from their respective copyright owners. The publisher and development team do not represent nor claim ownership over them.

Development Team

Writer: Edeltrudes P. Advincula
NCR, SDO-Quezon City

Consultant: Dr. Marie Grace A. Gomez, RGC, LPT
University of the Philippines Diliman

Learning Area Specialist: Gilbert Cratius B. Barrion

BLD Learning Area Specialist
Bureau of Curriculum Development
Bureau of Learning Resources

Every care has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the information provided in this material. For inquiries or feedback, please write or call the Office of the Director of the Bureau of Learning Resources via telephone numbers (02) 8634-1072 and 8631-6922 or by email at blr.od@deped.gov.ph.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

LESSON EXEMPLAR

Learning Area	Life Skills	Grade Level	11
Semester	1 st Sem	Quarter	2

I. OBJECTIVES

Content Standard	The learner demonstrates an understanding of the value of interpersonal effectiveness in achieving social competence.
Performance Standard	The learner engages in collaborative work that showcases interpersonal effectiveness.
Learning Competencies	The learners... 1. articulate the importance of having healthy relationships
II. REFERENCES and MATERIALS (Selecting Resources and Material)	Anger and Conflict Management Leader's Guide, Gerry Dune, Ph.D., Personhood Press, 2003 Cultivating Flourishing Practices and Environments by Embracing Positive Education, Shendah N. Benoit, University of North British Columbia, Canada, IGI Global Scientific Publishing, 2025 PERMAH Practice: Building Positive Habits through the Philippine Values Education Curriculum I-Through-We: How Supportive Social Relationships Facilitate Personal Growth, David S. Lee ^{1,2} , Oscar Ybarra ¹ , Richard Gonzalez ¹ , and Phoebe Ellsworth The Impact of Positive Relationships on Mental Health and Well-being https://www.child-focus.org/news/the-impact-of-positive-relationships-on-mental-health-and-well-being https://health.clevelandclinic.org/signs-of-a-healthy-relationship

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

III. CONTENTS (Sequencing Content)	Understanding the Nature and Dynamics of Social Relationships • Social Influence, Social Perception, Social Interaction • Cooperation, Accommodation, Competition, Conflict • Intergenerational and Inter-group Relationships
IV. OBJECTIVES (Setting Clear Objectives and Analyzing the Tasks)	After the session, learners should be able to: 1. Describe the importance of effective social influence, social perception, and social interaction; 2. Apply skills to increase cooperation and accommodation; 3. Decrease unhealthy cooperation and conflict; 4. Handle conflict effectively; 5. Articulate the importance of having healthy relationships; and 6. Enhance intergenerational and intergroup communication.
IV. PROCEDURES		ANNOTATION
A. Activating Prior Knowledge	Do you know what are the key characteristics of nature and dynamics of social relationships? This is what we will learn today on our topic. Let's start our task by having the teacher provide some activities. OPTION 1 Activity: 1. Create a concept map, place your name in the middle circle 2. In the other circles, add the name of the people who are significant in your life. Processing Questions: 1. Who are the important people in your life? 2. Why are they important to you?

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

3. How did these people help shape you into who you are right now?

OPTION 2: Describe the following pictures:

The teacher will have the students consider the important profile in their lives and how they shaped their personalities and describe the pictures or reflect on the scenarios.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Processing Questions:

1. What can you say about the groups in the pictures?
2. Describe how they communicate with each other. Would you like to work with them? Why?
3. How would this group be like five years from now if they maintained their communication style?

OPTION 2 Activity: Relationship Reflections

Group the students. Let the students reflect on the following scenarios in a focus group discussion:

- Building Connection: Describe an experience where you formed a new significant relationship (friendship, romantic, professional). What factors contributed to its development?
- Navigating Conflict: Share an experience where you faced a disagreement or conflict in a relationship. How did you handle it, and what was the outcome?
- Experiencing Support: Describe a time when you felt truly supported by someone in a relationship. What made their support meaningful?
- Understanding Boundaries: Share an experience where you learned about the importance of personal boundaries in a relationship (either setting your own or respecting someone else's).
- The Role of Effective Communication: Share an experience where effective (or ineffective) communication significantly impacted a relationship.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Let one student summarize the group's response.

OPTION 3 Activity Title: "Whispers & Mirrors"

Objective: To explore how social influence and perception affect how we interact with others.

Instructions:

1. Divide the class into groups of 6–8.
2. In each group, assign one "influencer" whose job is to subtly lead the group into making decisions (e.g., choosing a leader, planning a task) without revealing their role.
3. Give the group a small task (e.g., planning a class party or organizing an outreach activity).
4. Observe how the influencer guides the discussion and how group members respond.
5. After 10–15 minutes, debrief as a whole class.

Processing Questions:

- How did you decide who to follow or listen to?
- Did someone influence your decision-making? How?
- How do our perceptions of others affect how we treat them?
- What can we learn about ourselves from how we interact in groups?

2. Establishing the Purpose of the Lesson

Under this part the learners will know the learning goals, relevance, and real-life applications of the lesson. It sets expectations and provides motivation by answering the question: "Why are we learning this?"

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Option 1 Activity: Role Reversal

1. Work in groups.
2. Identify a conflict scenario at home or in school. Example: Child talking back at parents because of gadget use. Teacher is upset at a student cutting class.
3. Role play the situation.
4. Afterwards, role play the same situation but reverse roles.

Processing Questions

1. What is the source of conflict?
2. How did the conflict affect the relationship?
3. How does it feel to be the source of a conflict?
4. How does it feel to be affected by conflict?
5. How can this conflict be resolved?

Option 2 Class Cooperation Recipe Making

If class cooperation were a recipe, what would this be? Write down the recipe and the process of making it.

Processing Questions:

1. What are the main ingredients for class cooperation?
2. What processes are needed for class cooperation?
3. How can you apply these processes to maintain class cooperation?

From the work we have completed, we compare personal experiences that shows understanding of the nature and dynamics of social relationship and the teacher will create another activity focused on comparing personal experiences to deepen understanding of social

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
 BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

	Option 3 Activity Title: "Tower Challenge" Objective: To experience and reflect on cooperation, competition, and conflict resolution. Instructions: 1. Divide students into teams of 4–5. 2. Provide each group with the same materials (e.g., 20 spaghetti sticks, tape, string, and a marshmallow). 3. Goal: Build the tallest freestanding tower that can hold the marshmallow on top. 4. After the first round, announce that materials are limited and they must negotiate or compete with other teams for shared resources. 5. Observe whether groups cooperate, compete, or resolve conflicts. Processing Questions: • What strategy did your group use to succeed in the task? • Was it easier to work together or to compete? Why? • How did you handle conflict or disagreement? • What does this say about how people behave in real-life group situations? Option 4 Activity: "Relay of Roles" Objective: To experience different social dynamics (cooperation, competition, conflict resolution) through a physical relay game.	relationship dynamics, offering a slightly different approach from the "Shared Stories"
--	---	--

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
 BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Instructions:

1. Divide the class into 3 teams.
2. Set up a simple relay course with challenges (e.g., passing a ball, solving a physical puzzle, group jumps).
3. Assign each team a different mode of interaction for each round:
 - Round 1 – Competition: Only one team can win.
 - Round 2 – Conflict: Two teams must share the same lane or equipment.
 - Round 3 – Cooperation: All teams must finish the course together by merging members and supporting each other.
4. Debrief after each round.

Processing Questions:

- Which round felt the most challenging? Why?
- How did your team handle conflict or shared space?
- What strategies helped your team work together better?
- What real-life situations require competition, cooperation, or compromise?

B. Instituting New Knowledge

1. Presenting Examples

This step involves showing a relatable, concrete, or real-life example that illustrates the new concept. Examples can be visual, situational, or experiential and are used to spark interest and provide context.

Now, let's do something more dynamic to demonstrate the nature of social relationships.

Explain the following terms before doing the activity:

The teacher will explain the different terms before doing the activities

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

1. Social Influence

The process by which individuals change their thoughts, feelings, or behaviors as a result of interaction with others.

Examples: Peer pressure, advertising, conformity, obedience to authority.

2. Social Perception

The process of interpreting and understanding the behavior, emotions, and intentions of other people.

Examples: Judging someone's mood from facial expressions; forming impressions based on someone's appearance or actions.

3. Social Interaction

The dynamic process by which people act and react to those around them is important. It includes verbal and non-verbal communication and forms the basis of relationships.

Examples: Conversations, helping others, playing games, or participating in group activities.

4. Cooperation

A form of social interaction where individuals or groups work together toward a common goal.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Examples: Students working on a group project; athletes working together to win a game.

5. Accommodation

A social process in which individuals or groups adjust or compromise to resolve conflict or differences peacefully.

Examples: A teacher adjusting rules to accommodate a student with a disability; two classmates agreeing to take turns using shared resources.

6. Competition

A social interaction where individuals or groups strive against one another to achieve a goal that cannot be shared.

Examples: Competing for the top-class rank; businesses competing for customers.

7. Conflict

A form of social interaction where individuals or groups oppose each other due to incompatible goals, interests, or values.

Examples: Arguments between friends; strikes or protests over unfair treatment.

8. Intergenerational Relationships

Relationships between individuals of different generations, such as between children and grandparents, or teens and older adults.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

9. Intergroup Relationships

Definition:

Interactions and relationships between different social, ethnic, religious, or cultural groups.

Examples: Collaborations between schools from different communities; friendships across racial or religious lines.

OPTION 1 Activity: One Word, One Sentence Storytelling

Form a big circle. Let the class tell a story about good relationships in a group such as the class or the family. Each member will contribute one word or one story that will be told orally. Remember that the end goal is to produce a coherent story.

Processing Questions

1. How did you feel about the activity?
2. How did each member of the class contribute to making a coherent story?
3. How did the story turn out? What factors contributed to the final output?

Option 2. Harmony Poster Collaboration

Create a class poster that reflects good relationships. Identify the elements to be included in the poster. Carefully plan the poster parts. Afterwards, create the poster.

To discuss this lesson, an inquiry-based learning strategy could be applied. Begin the lesson by completing the following activity.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Processing Questions:

1. What is the poster about?
2. How did you create the poster?
3. What did the class do to make the poster well-drawn?

Option 3 Common Ground

Divide the class into groups.

Identify things that the members are alike (hobbies, interests, movie personalities).

Identify how the members are different

Processing Questions

1. How are the members the same?
2. How are they different?
3. Everyone has traits or likes that are the same as the other person. There are also individual differences. How can you work in collaboration despite your difference?

In this part, learners will engage in guided and independent practice activities to reinforce the concept. This may include drills, problem-solving, application tasks, or peer collaboration. This is the explicit teaching or guided exploration of the lesson's key ideas. It includes defining terms, explaining relationships, using models or analogies, and encouraging learner interaction.

This pertains to formative assessment.*

OPTION 1 Activity: Scenario Analysis

Situation: Jessica and Philip have been dating for a few months. Philip has been

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

acting irritably lately whenever Jessica hangs out with their buddies. When Jessica is out, Philip frequently phones or contacts them, making them feel bad about not being home.

1. Why is Philip irritable?
2. What thoughts does Philip have on his mind when he feels irritable?
3. Has Philip checked the facts before he felt irritable?
4. If you were Philip's friend, what advice would you give him?

OPTION 2 Activity: Bridge Making

1. Divide the class into groups
2. Let them create a bridge out of scratch paper and one foot of tape.
3. After constructing the bridge, the teacher will use a fan to attempt to make the bridge collapse. Two attempts will be made.
4. The group that has the bridge standing wins

Processing Questions

1. How did ____ group win?
2. What elements did the group display to win?

Option 3. Appreciation Circle

Form a big circle.

Let the class appreciate each other. Start with one class member complimenting the person on his/her side. Let the compliments continue (Sample Compliment: You are a good person. I am thankful for your life. You have been so kind to me.)

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
 BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

	Processing Questions How does it feel to give compliments to other people? How does it feel to receive compliments? How can this practice continue in class?
C. Demonstrating Knowledge and Skills	1. Finding Practical Application In this stage, learners apply what they have learned to real-life or simulated scenarios, problems, or tasks. This involves transferring knowledge and skills to authentic contexts and this will serve as scaffolding for the unit performance Good morning/afternoon everyone. Today, we will explore a very essential and very intimate subject: comprehending the dynamics of our relationships. Now that we have examined the traits that distinguish healthy from unhealthy relationships, we will turn our attention inside in order to fully internalize these ideas. OPTION 1: Plaque of Appreciation Make a plaque of appreciation out of recycled materials to a person or group of persons who are significant in your life. Carefully craft the words that you will place on the plaque. Present this plaque. 1. How does it feel to create a plaque of appreciation? 2. How are the words in the plaque significant to you? 3. Why did you give this plaque of appreciation? 4. Why is it important to value significant people in our lives? OPTION 2: Class Cooperation Covenant Create a covenant for the class that is anchored on cooperation. Explain what each member agrees to do to achieve this covenant. Remember that each delete member must agree to the covenant. Afterwards, let everyone sign the covenant.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

OPTION 3 Activity: “Empathy Stations: Movement in Their Shoes”

Objective: To promote empathy and understanding across generations and groups by simulating movement limitations or differences.

Instructions:

1. Set up 4–5 stations where students do basic movements—but with a twist to simulate different group experiences:
 - Station 1: Elderly Movement (slow walk with imaginary joint pain)
 - Station 2: Young Child’s Pace (high energy but clumsy balance)
 - Station 3: Blindfold Walk (partnered, with one guiding the other)
 - Station 4: Cultural Barrier (movement tasks done while interpreting made-up gestures or signs)
 - Station 5: Physical Limitation (one arm tied, or hopping on one foot)
2. Reflect after each station with quick journaling or group discussion.

Processing Questions:

- How did it feel to move like someone from another group?
- What challenges did you experience that surprised you?
- How can this help us build more inclusive and respectful relationships in real life?
- What can we do to support those who experience real barriers like these?

2. Making Generalization

In this phase, the learners will draw conclusions or summarize the key takeaways from the lesson. It can be done through discussions, reflective questions, or concept mapping.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

Through the various tasks you have completed, let us reflect on your personal experiences that show characteristics of healthy and unhealthy relationships. Answer the activity below.

Option 1 Reflection

Examine how you relate to your grandparents or parents. What are the points that you need to improve? If you switch roles with your parents, will you be happy with how your child communicates?

Option 2. Identify a moment when you have caused pain to a friend or a relative. Examine the situation. Think of how this situation could become better. Afterwards, write a letter to that person apologizing for your actions.

Intergenerational and Intergroup Relationships

OPTION 3 Activity Title: "Walk in Their Shoes" (Role Play + Dialogue)

Objective: To build empathy and understanding for people from different age groups or social groups.

1. Assign students different roles (e.g., a teenager, an elderly grandparent, a child, an immigrant, a person with disability).
2. Provide each group a scenario (e.g., attending a community meeting, lining up for government aid, sharing public transport).
3. Have them role-play the scenario while staying in character.
4. After role-playing, each student reflects and shares their experience.

These checks understanding of the key traits discussed and encourages students to reflect on what makes a relationship.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

	Processing Questions: • What did you feel while acting in someone else's role? • Did you gain a new perspective on the challenges faced by others? • Why is it important to understand people from different generations or social groups? • How can we promote mutual respect and inclusion? 3. Evaluating Learning In this step, the learners are assessed to determine the level of their understanding and skill acquisition. This may include written activities, performance tasks, or other check-in activities. This must be aligned to unit summative assessment. OPTION 1: Self-Assessment and Development Plan Identify 2-3 interpersonal skills you believe are your strengths and provide specific examples of how you have demonstrated these strengths. Also, identify 2-3 interpersonal skills you would like to develop further and explain why you believe these areas need improvement for your social competence. OPTION 2: Cross-Cutting Reflection Prompts You can use these in a journal or group discussion format after all three activities: • What did I learn about myself and others today? • How do social relationships affect the way I think and behave?	This helps assess their self-awareness regarding their role in building
--	---	--

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

- What can I do to build healthier, more respectful relationships in my family, school, and community?

Option 3: Summative Test: Understanding Healthy and Unhealthy Relationships

Instructions: Please read each question carefully and answer to the best of your ability. This test assesses your understanding of the characteristics, dynamics, and impact of healthy and unhealthy relationships.

Part 1: Multiple Choice

1. Which of the following is a cornerstone of a healthy relationship?
 - a) Constant agreement and avoidance of conflict.
 - b) Complete dependence on the other person for happiness.
 - c) Mutual respect for each other's individuality and boundaries.
 - d) One partner always prioritizes the other's needs over their own.
2. A key indicator of unhealthy communication in a relationship is:
 - a) Expressing disagreements calmly and finding compromises.
 - b) Actively listening to understand the other person's perspective.
 - c) Using insults, name-calling, or threats during disagreements.
 - d) Clearly stating one's needs and feelings using "I" statements.
3. Trust in a healthy relationship is best described as:
 - a) Blindly believing everything your partner says without question.
 - b) Having confidence in your partner's honesty, reliability, and good intentions.
 - c) Monitoring constantly, your partner's activities to ensure faithfulness.
 - d) Expecting your partner to always share every single thought and feeling.

healthy relationships and identifies areas for growth

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

4. Which of the following behaviors is a significant red flag for an unhealthy relationship?
- a) Expressing the need for personal space and alone time.
 - b) Seeking support and advice from trusted friends or family.
 - c) Attempting to control who the other person spends time with or what they do.
 - d) Openly discussing concerns and working together to find solutions.
5. Empathy in a relationship involves:
- a) Always agreeing with your partner's feelings, even if you don't understand them.
 - b) Understanding and sharing the feelings of another person.
 - c) Telling your partner how they should feel in a given situation.
 - d) Ignoring your own feelings to prioritize your partner's emotions.
- Part 2: True or False (Write TRUE if the statement is true and FALSE if the statement is false - 1 point each)
- _____ 1. In a healthy relationship, it's normal and acceptable for individuals to have different opinions and perspectives.
- _____ 2. If your partner frequently checks your phone, email, or social media without your permission, it demonstrates a high level of trust.
- _____ 3. Feeling safe, respected, and valued for who you are is a fundamental aspect of a healthy relationship.
- _____ 4. Isolation from friends and family is often a tactic used in unhealthy relationships to increase control.
- _____ 5. Compromise in a relationship means that one person always gives in to the other's desires.

Republic of the Philippines
Department of Education
BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

	Answer Key (for instructor use): Part 1: Multiple Choice 1. C 2. C 3. B 4. C 5. B Part 2: True or False 6. TRUE 7. FALSE 8. TRUE 9. TRUE 10. FALSE
V. ASSESSMENT (Assessing Learnings)	The teacher will use portfolio assessment where students will compile their completed tasks as proof of their understanding of the subject and the skills they have developed. Complete the following sentences: Groups work well when_____. When I communicate with people who are older than me, I will _____ To contribute to class harmony, I will _____.
VI. REFLECTION	Good activities as a sort of reflection.

Republic of the Philippines

Department of Education

BUREAU OF LEARNING DELIVERY

(Feedback and Continuous Improvement)	After five minutes of solo reflection, ask participants to consider how physical activity, either alone or with others, might affect their relationships. Urge them to think about familial, friendship, and romantic connections. Give them index cards or sticky notes to write down their first ideas, one on each card. Illustrations: "Exercising together can be a fun shared activity."
--	--