Learning Area:	General Science	Quarter:	2
Lesson No.:	3	Date:
Lesson Title/ Topic:	Application of chemical substances in household and personal care products
Name:		Grade & Section:	11

I. Activity No. 1: Product Investigation

II. Objective(s): At the end of the activity, you should be able to analyze product labels to identify active ingredients, functions, and safety precautions of common household and personal care items. This activity promotes awareness of chemical substances and consumer safety.

III. Materials Needed: household product labels, pen and paper

IV. Instructions:

1. Select one household or personal care product (e.g., shampoo, disinfectant, toothpaste, detergent).
2. Carefully examine the product label, looking for active ingredients, warnings, and instructions for use.
3. Fill in the table below with the required information.

Product Name	Active Ingredient(s)	Function / Purpose	With Warning/Precaution? (Yes/No)	If Yes, What Precautions Are Indicated?
Example: Disinfectant Spray	Ethanol, Benzalkonium Chloride	Kills bacteria & viruses	Yes	Avoid contact with eyes; Flammable—keep away from heat or flame

Reflection Questions:

After completing the table, discuss and reflect on the following:

1. Were you surprised by any ingredients or warnings listed? Why?

2. How can understanding product labels help consumers make safer choices?

3. What steps can families take to minimize exposure to harmful substances in everyday products?

Rubric for Scoring Reflection Questions

Criteria	4 Excellent	3 - Good	2 Satisfactory	1 - Needs Improvement
Depth of Reflection	Demonstrates deep and insightful reflection with personal examples and thoughtful analysis.	Shows reflection with some analysis and personal insight.	Minimal reflection; responses are general with little personal insight.	Lack of reflection; responses are vague or incomplete.
Clarity and Organization	Ideas are clearly expressed, well-organized, and easy to follow.	Ideas are mostly clear with some organization.	Some clarity, but ideas are scattered or lack coherence.	Unclear, disorganized, and difficult to understand.
Relevance to the Topic	Fully addresses the question with relevant examples and strong connections to consumer awareness and product safety.	Addresses the question with some relevant connections to the topic.	Partially addresses the question with limited relevance.	Does not address the question or lacks relevance.
Critical Thinking	Demonstrates strong reasoning and analysis, considering different perspectives or implications.	Shows some critical thinking but lacks depth.	Minimal critical thinking, with basic observations.	Little to no critical thinking; responses are superficial or unsupported.
