Scene-vestigator

II. Objective(s):

At the end of this activity, the learners will be able to determine the descriptive values under Relational harmony.

III. Materials Needed:

Activity Sheet, Pen, Smart-TV

IV. Instructions:

Read the following statement carefully. Identify what specific values among the Relational Harmony are being described. Write your answer in the space provided.

_____ 1. Anna notices her classmate Miguel sitting alone, looking upset after receiving a low grade. Instead of ignoring him, Anna sits beside him, listens without judgment, and offers to help him study after school.

_____ 2. During a group game, Jayden makes sure everyone takes turns equally, even though his best friend wants to go twice. He explains, "Everyone deserves a fair chance."

_____ 3. Lena sees a stranger struggling to carry groceries and offers to help them to their car, even though she's in a hurry. The stranger smiles and thanks her, saying it made his/her day.

_____ 4. For a class project, four students with different ideas agree to combine their strengths. One designs, another writes, one does research, and another presents. They support each other and complete the project successfully.

_____ 5. When Amir's friend tells him she's nervous about her parents divorcing, he doesn't just say, "It'll be fine." Instead, he says, "That must feel really scary. I'm here if you want to talk."

_____ 6. During lunch, Sam notices that a new student doesn't have a seat. He waves him over and introduces him to the group, helping him feel welcome.

_____7. Elise wants to win a competition, but she notices her teammate is struggling emotionally. She pauses her own prep to check in and offer support, believing their well-being matters more than just winning.

_____8. During a community clean-up, Miguel sees a homeless person nearby. Instead of avoiding him, he offers him water and speaks to him respectfully, treating him as an equal human being, not just someone “in need.”

I. Activity No. 6:

Relational Harmony: The Movie

II. Objective(s):

At the end of this activity, the learners will be able to perform one value under Relational harmony.

III. Materials Needed:

Activity Sheet, Video Editing, materials in video shooting

IV. Instructions:

This exercise will help students practice the values actively and creatively. Each group will be assigned a different scenario that requires the value they were discussing. Groups will take turns acting out their scenarios. The group members will role-play different parts of the scenario, focusing on how they can demonstrate the assigned value in action.

Empathy: A student imagines what it's like to be new to the school and speaks to the feelings of a new student.

Pro-Social Behavior: A student notices someone being excluded and actively works to include them in a group activity.

Other-Centeredness: A student helps a friend with their homework before focusing on their own.

Pakikipagkapwa: A student greets a janitor or community member with respect, treating them like an equal part of the community.

Compassion: One student pretends to be a friend going through a tough time (e.g., loss of a pet), while another student offers comfort and help.

Fairness: During a classroom debate, one student ensures that everyone gets an equal chance to speak and listens to others respectfully.

Kindness: One student performs a small, kind gesture, like sharing their lunch with a classmate who forgot theirs.

Collaboration: Students work together on solving a classroom problem, such as planning an event or designing a poster.
